

NEWSBUZZ

EXTRA Ep. 2

Hello, I'm Ashley Bartolomeo and welcome to another edition of NEWSBUZZ EXTRA!

In today's celebrity gossip, many large named artists are owing up to getting a helping hand from the beautiful and talented Taylor swift. Earlier in the month, Taylor tweeted her approval for a little-known artist named bõrns. Thanks to Taylor Swift's tweet born shot up the billboard charts shortly after. There are four other artists that have also gotten a helping hand from the lovely t-swift. Those artists are: Nicki Minaj, Sam Smith, Ed Sheeran, and Vance Joy.

Two months after Nicki Minaj released her 2010 debut album "Pink Friday" T-Swift visited a Nashville radio station to perform her take on Nicki's "Superbass". Shortly after, pop radio took notice, which bumped Minaj to number 3 on the Billboard Hot 100 in 2011.

Sam Smith was invited on stage last February by T-Swift to do a duet of his first song titled "Money on my mind". This occurred very early in Sam smith's career, but it helped boost his fan base that eventually landed him to be nominated for a Grammy.

Ed Sheeran and t-swift share their very popular duet titled "Everything has changed" which was released in 2012 on her "Red" album and have become super tight over time. And last but not least, Vance Joy. Vance performed his aussie-folk acoustic song "Riptide" last October as part of his BBC radio one live lounge set. The performance shortly after racked up several million hits on YouTube which caused T-Swift to notice and invite them to join this summer's 1989 tour.

So the conclusion is Taylor swift is not only talented but she's the ultimate giver which has been proven time and time again!

And that's all the gossip I have to share tonight in the entertainment world. Until next time, I'm Ashley Bartolomeo.